Jagersbo Kennels was registered with the American Kennel Club in 1928. The name "Jagersbo" actually means "Hunter's Home" in Danish.

Our devotion to the sport of dogs has been a lifelong experience, beginning with Erik Bergishagen, Sr. Soon after he arrived from Denmark in 1922, Erik Sr. began importing and breeding English Setters and Pointers. The kennel remains to this day a family owned business.

In 1928 my father, Erik Bergishagen Sr., registered the kennel name "Jagersbo" with the American Kennel Club. My father bred English Setters and Pointers, which he imported from Denmark and Sweden. Later, he bred Brittany and Irish Water Spaniels, Chesapeake Bay Retrievers, Dachshunds and Labrador Retrievers. In 1935 Jagersbo Kennels moved to its current location in what is now Troy, Michigan. I was 23 years old in 1952 when my father died.

The actual kennel, as it stands, was built in 1935 with the belief that dogs flourish in an environment with plenty of outdoor access, sunshine and fresh air. We are one of the few indoor / outdoor kennels left in the area.

Over the years, we have remodeled and updated our facilities in order to give our boarders the best amenities that we possibly can. Our family and staff have enormous amounts of dog sense and experience that help us to provide our boarders with thoughtful and considerate care.

You will often see owners being dragged from their cars to our front door by their pets. There are no better recommendations than those from our beloved pets.
